WHEREAS, county executives and mayors in counties in the Baltimore/Washington Region have declared a States of Emergency for their jurisdictions due to the spread of COVID-19. Those declarations are still in place;

WHEREAS, the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) advises that social distancing is the most effective way of slowing the spread of COVID-19;

WHEREAS, COVID-19/novel Coronavirus continues to pose serious health risks for the citizens of the Baltimore/Washington Region, particularly elderly residents and those who are immunosuppressed or otherwise have high-risk medical conditions;

WHEREAS, on March 30, 2020, the Governor issued Executive Order 20-03-30-01 which ordered all nonessential employees in the State to remain in their homes for an undetermined period of time in an effort to arrest the increase in the number of residents contracting the virus

WHEREAS, on May 13, 2020 Governor Hogan issued Executive Order 20-05-13-01 (the “Governor’s Order”), authorizing Maryland counties to lift their stay at home orders as they see fit based on the conditions in their jurisdictions.

i. requiring any businesses, organizations, establishments, or facilities to close or modify their operations; and/or

WHEREAS, Baltimore City and the surrounding counties in the Baltimore/Washington Region have agreed that the region is not ready at this time to reopen as the parameters set by the Johns Hopkins School of Public Health have not all been satisfied.

WHEREAS, there is still evidence of increases in confirmed cases and deaths and the testing capacity is not optimal for the jurisdiction’s population.

NOW THEREFORE, I, Mayor Bernard “Jack” Young, Mayor of the City of Baltimore, in consultation with the Commissioner of Health for Baltimore City and by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Governor’s Order, do hereby issue the following Executive Order:
